Probably Sunday P. M.

The funeral of John Clover, which is not definitely set, owing to the fact that feftends of the family have not yet learned as to when they an arrive, will probably be held Sunday afternoon.

George White, who is remaining for the funeral services, is taking an arrive part in the arrangements and the appointment of a successor to the very important office of pressident of the Iron Mountain Oil come plany. The company is unusually editive at this time, and brought in another loss producer yesterday.

The death of Mr. Clover has brought out strongly the fact that while of a retiring disposition, he never failed to come to the front when questions of vital importance to the community were at stake, and his judgment was invariably correct and his advice much sought for. The sympathy of the entire community is with the family in this sad bercavement.

Jomac Gets Well

The Jomac oil company drilling in the southeast of the northeast of 23-16-10 brought in a test estimated at 200 barrels or better, according to reports from there yesterday.

all partook freely of the good things offered.

There was a little by-play, all among friends, as for instance when bob Fitsgerald, pretended to be engaged at his friend grank Wolff, and pulled a big gun and began shooting blank cartridges permiscuously at the ceiling.

Many made their exit in record time, but it took but a minute for the crowd to tumble, and much folicy resulted from the incident. The entire party was given tickets for the leading vaudeville show in lown, but of course the main thing was the careful inspection of the manner in which the firm's steel derricks are made. It is wonderful the rapidity and precision with which the work is performed.

The story is better told by anyone who was there, and this, the reader as find out by asking any one of them.
